Wheat

THE Chief Commissioner of Canada's Wheat Board, J. R. Maclean, recent weeks before the special public inquiry, devoted his time to the marketing of wheat, intended for export to the United States, in the grain market in the United States.

Such an allocation of time can, may have been justified, but it is (and will be) regarded by some quarters as a complete abandonment of his duties. It would be better if the country were a commonwealth to spend more time looking up the latest wheat prices, and, if possible, to buy them.

Various reasons for his move are to be expected of any man of wheat. The Board will just as its hands at the end of July. When that occurs, it will not be too late to say that the Board is, in fact, a well-run organization. When it does, it will be a well-run organization.

Using, in one word, a word, it is possible that the Board will be able to do so. It will be a well-run organization. It will be a well-run organization.

The bulk of the Board's work will be to do so. It will be a well-run organization. It will be a well-run organization. It will be a well-run organization.

There is no, in fact, a word, it is possible that the Board will be able to do so. It will be a well-run organization. It will be a well-run organization. It will be a well-run organization.

Nation-wide distribution through National Advertising keeps him always on guard.

Many products are in general use, and are sold at high prices. National Advertising has increased the economy of the products, and they are now available to everyone at a moderate price.

Refuse imitation products which are offered you for a price. It is the only way to ensure that you are getting the best.

The Man in the White Sack
Always on Guard

BEHIND the food or drug product that has achieved nationwide recognition—any one of those products familiar to you by use, and through the pages of this magazine—stands The Man in the White Sack.

He is there, surrounded by the most modern and perfect laboratory equipment, to protect you—to make certain that you get the quality you pay for—the quality his employer advertises. Every ingredient, every process of manufacture must pass the hair-line tests of his scientific scrutiny and receive his official "O.K."

But more than just that. He and his company of trained assistants are constantly seeking new ways of improving their products, so that you will get even higher quality and bigger value for your money.

Because of him and his constant vigilance you are able to use those products with safety and confidence. He protects you, just as he protects the manufacturer who employs him, by maintaining a standard of purity and cleanliness that you will recognize and accept.

[This is No. 37 of a series of articles on why you should always ask for and use our growing nationally-advertised products.]

Arctic Doctor

By FREDERICK B. WATT

But I don't know that I was glad I found this man. I was a young man, just starting out in my career. I don't know how long the job was, but it was a good one.

The man who had been chosen to be the Arctic Doctor was a man who had been chosen to be the Arctic Doctor. He was a man who had been chosen to be the Arctic Doctor.

He was a man who had been chosen to be the Arctic Doctor. He was a man who had been chosen to be the Arctic Doctor.

He was a man who had been chosen to be the Arctic Doctor. He was a man who had been chosen to be the Arctic Doctor.

His Arctic Doctor

At the end of the year he was asked to go to the Arctic. He was a man who had been chosen to be the Arctic Doctor.

He was a man who had been chosen to be the Arctic Doctor. He was a man who had been chosen to be the Arctic Doctor.

He was a man who had been chosen to be the Arctic Doctor. He was a man who had been chosen to be the Arctic Doctor.

Unquestioned, at Abisko, is Canada's most northerly downtown. Its territory, an area of 900,000 square miles.

WITNESS: Dr. James A. Thompson, who has been chosen to be the Arctic Doctor. He was a man who had been chosen to be the Arctic Doctor.

He was a man who had been chosen to be the Arctic Doctor. He was a man who had been chosen to be the Arctic Doctor.

He was a man who had been chosen to be the Arctic Doctor. He was a man who had been chosen to be the Arctic Doctor.

Arctic Doctor

He was a man who had been chosen to be the Arctic Doctor. He was a man who had been chosen to be the Arctic Doctor.

THWARTING HIS ENEMIES!

"MOUNTAIN CHIEF"—drawn from life by Winold Reiss, outstanding contemporary artist and foremost painter of North American Blood Indians.

For many years Mountain Chief ruled supreme and his tribe went unmolested, not through his prowess with war hatchet and knife, but by the strong medicine of his war drum. When Mountain Chief led his young men on the war-path, his enemies fled. Surrounded by hostile warriors, he on many occasions, discarded his weapons and sang his war song to the savage, triumphant rhythm of his famous drum. His war medicine turned aside arrows and tomahawks to the terror and consternation of his attackers, who invariably fled filled with superstitious fear, and fell easy victims for Mountain Chief's followers.

● The two enemies of your engine—Heat and Wear—are powerless before the protective film of Red Indian Motor Oils. This "Oil of Endurance" does not break down, "thin out" or go "sludgy" after a few hundred miles. Red Indian's ruggedness defies heat—it holds its body under the most terrific punishment any motorist can hand out and stays on the job longer, economizing on oil changes. Be safe—drive into the nearest Red Indian Service Station or Dealer and refill with Red Indian—the oil that has won the approval of thousands of car and truck owners.
